The individuals, families and businesses that support Youth Frontiers understand that today's students will be tomorrow's leaders. They invest in our mission because there is no more powerful change agent in making our world a kinder, more civil and respectful place to live than the character of our youth.

This school year, Youth Frontiers will deliver character and leadership development programs for an estimated 130,000 elementary, middle and high school students, educators, parents and community members — all for the sake of our youth.

On our student retreats, we help teach young people to interact with others respectfully and responsibly and find the courage to stand up for what is right. Through our educator programs and our community experiences, we support the adults who are fostering the character development of our next generation of leaders every day. With the partnership of these education, business and civic leaders, we inspire kids to live with character and to build a better world.

On Thursday, April 30, Youth Frontiers will host an estimated 300 parents, grandparents and community members at our Annual Event, a dynamic experience filled with live music, intentional connection time and moving stories that showcase our mission. Proceeds from the event will support our work to inspire character, civility and community.
